

United Christian Nation

Private Express Sovereign Trust

Article I: Formation and Purpose

Section 1: Divine Foundation

This Trust is established by divine authority and sacred calling from Almighty Yahuah as an irrevocable, ecclesiastical, non-statutory, perpetual entity. Its sole existence is rooted exclusively in Natural Law, Common Law, and Biblical Covenant, immune from statutory or civil authority except as explicitly set forth herein.

Section 2: Mission

To receive, steward, and lawfully manage all assets, declarations, and jurisdictional rights assigned by the covenant citizens of the United Christian Nation, executing the divine purposes outlined in Scripture and the national Constitution.

Article II: Ecclesiastical Status and Jurisdictional Immunity

Section 1: Exclusive Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction

This Trust exercises sole and exclusive jurisdiction over its assets, operations, and beneficiaries under Natural Law, Common Law, and divine mandate. No statutory, civil, or commercial jurisdiction is recognized, acknowledged, or implied over the Trust itself.

Section 2: Limited Special Appearance

Any interaction with civil authorities by Trustees or agents of this Trust shall occur solely by limited special appearance and without prejudice, strictly for strategic necessity, and explicitly shall not imply consent to statutory jurisdiction.

Section 3: Statutory Nexus Explicitly Denied

This Trust expressly disclaims any and all nexus, implied or explicit, with the United States, any state thereof, or any foreign nation under statutory or civil law, except under narrowly defined circumstances articulated within Article III below.

Article III: Statutory Interface for International Commerce

Section 1: Strategic Commercial Necessity

Solely for purposes of essential international commerce and diplomacy, the Trustee, in his individual or representative fiduciary capacity, may establish and operate statutory entities (including for-profit or non-profit LLCs or corporations) within jurisdictions requiring statutory compliance. Such entities shall exist exclusively as commercial interfaces.

Section 2: Operational Separation

Statutory entities established for strategic commercial necessity shall be explicitly separate from the ecclesiastical identity and jurisdiction of the Trust. These entities shall bear statutory obligations independently, and their statutory compliance shall not extend to, impute to, nor imply jurisdiction over the Trust itself.

Section 3: Protective Disclaimer

Formation and operation of statutory entities by the Trustee under this Article shall constitute limited special appearance solely for transactional necessity. It shall explicitly not represent consent, acknowledgment, or subjection of the Trust's sovereign ecclesiastical jurisdiction to statutory authority.

Section 4: Trust Immunity from Entity Liabilities

Liabilities, obligations, or compliance responsibilities arising from any statutory entity under this Article shall attach solely and exclusively to said statutory entity, without recourse against or legal nexus to the Trust.

Article IV: Trustee Fiduciary Authority and Clarification

Section 1: Trustee Authority

The Trustee shall hold full fiduciary authority to act diplomatically, commercially, and administratively, strictly within the boundaries established by this Trust, explicitly including forming and operating statutory entities under Article III.

Section 2: Fiduciary Integrity

The Trustee shall manage all assets and resources of this Trust with integrity, accountability, and complete separation from personal interests or liabilities arising from statutory entities. Separate records, accounts, and documentation shall be diligently maintained to demonstrate absolute functional independence.

Article V: Perfection and Correction of Trust Language

Section 1: Perfection Clause

Should any provision, phrasing, or definition within this Trust be later identified as insufficient, unclear, or deficient in fully safeguarding the ecclesiastical autonomy and statutory immunity of the Trust, such deficiencies shall be automatically and retroactively perfected to fully embody the original ecclesiastical intent ab initio, as if originally set forth herein.

Section 2: Interpretative Authority

In any instance of ambiguity, interpretation shall explicitly favor ecclesiastical autonomy and statutory immunity as fundamental to the Trust's sovereign character, and such interpretations shall be integrated as original language of this Trust.

Article VI: Irrevocability and Protection from External Invalidation

Section 1: Absolute Irrevocability

This Trust is hereby established irrevocably, not subject to alteration, invalidation, revocation, or dissolution by any external statutory, civil, or commercial authority, including but not limited to the United States Attorney General, Secretary of State, or other domestic or foreign officials or judicial bodies.

Section 2: Jurisdictional Sovereignty Affirmed

Any attempt by external statutory or civil authorities to invalidate, pierce, or dissolve this Trust shall be considered null, void, and without effect, explicitly repudiated nunc pro tunc from inception.

Section 3: Defense Against External Challenges

The Trustee shall maintain explicit records demonstrating absolute ecclesiastical separation, sovereignty, and operational integrity of the Trust. All attempts by external authorities to impose jurisdiction, invalidate Trust standing, or enforce statutory compliance shall be actively contested under ecclesiastical arbitration and, if necessary, international diplomatic channels.

Section 4: International Recognition

The Trust shall actively pursue formal recognition from sovereign states and international bodies to reinforce its status and provide tangible diplomatic protections against jurisdictional infringement by external governments.

Article VII: International Recognition and Diplomatic Capacity

Section 1: Diplomatic Representation

The Trustee shall hold exclusive diplomatic authority on behalf of the United Christian Nation, including treaty-making and recognition engagements, operating within the ecclesiastical and diplomatic character expressly stated herein.

Section 2: Protective Diplomatic Status

This Trust claims inviolable diplomatic immunity and international legal protections consistent with principles enshrined in the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations (1961), explicitly as an ecclesiastical and diplomatic mission entity.

Article VIII: Binding Oath and Covenant

Section 1: Sacred Trustee Oath

Each Trustee must solemnly affirm a sacred Oath before Almighty Yahuah to faithfully fulfill duties, maintain ecclesiastical jurisdictional immunity, diligently safeguard Trust assets from statutory encroachment, and honorably represent the sovereign ecclesiastical and diplomatic character of the Trust as established herein.

Article IX: Governing Law and Venue

Section 1: Exclusive Governing Law

This Trust is exclusively governed by Natural Law, Common Law, and the divinely inspired Biblical Covenant, rejecting all statutory or civil legal authority.

Section 2: Exclusive Ecclesiastical Venue

Any disputes concerning the Trust shall be resolved exclusively under ecclesiastical arbitration conducted by recognized and qualified ecclesiastical authorities appointed by the Trustee, expressly barring recourse to external statutory courts or civil judicial authorities.

Article X: Grantor and Trustee Establishment

Section 1: Grantor Declaration

I, Stephen Joseph Stancil, as the divinely appointed initial Trustee and Prime Minister of the United Christian Nation, hereby irrevocably establish and confirm the creation of the United Christian Nation Private Express Sovereign Trust. By executing this instrument, I expressly declare my intention to create an ecclesiastical trust as described herein, for the purposes, protections, and sovereignty detailed above. I solemnly declare and affirm that I have explicitly been called, appointed, and anointed by Yahusha Himself to this sacred task. In direct fulfillment of His explicit mandate found in John 17:20-23, it is my divine commission to establish and lead the United Christian Nation as a unified body, demonstrating to the world that Yahuah sent Yahusha and affirming His imminent return as He promised.

Section 2: Acceptance of Trustee Role

I accept my fiduciary responsibilities as the initial Trustee and solemnly affirm that I will faithfully execute my duties, uphold the Trust's ecclesiastical sovereignty, and ensure strict compliance with the terms set forth in this Trust.

Executed and affirmed this 15th day of April, in the year of our Lord 2025, under the authority of Almighty Yahuah.

Without Prejudice
